Hearing loss affecting your life?

If you struggle to hear on the phone or in crowded places, even while wearing your hearing aids, then you could benefit from a cochlear implant.

Not-for-profit organisation NextSense is hosting a free virtual information session about cochlear implants on Wednesday 2 December 11.00am – 12.00pm, where you'll discover how you could benefit from a cochlear implant and learn about the journey from a recipient.

Register to attend the event

About this session

In the session, you will:

- learn about how cochlear implants are different to hearing aids
- hear firsthand from a cochlear implant recipient
- have the chance to ask questions in real time

There will be a Q&A session at the end with NextSense's qualified Audiologist. Family and friends are welcome to attend.

Event details:

When: Wednesday 2 December, 11.00am – 12.00pm

Cost: Free

Bookings are essential—once you have registered, you will be provided with a link to join the virtual session.

Why does hearing loss need to be addressed?

Hearing loss is the number one, biggest modifiable risk for dementia in middle age.

As hearing deteriorates and people withdraw from social activities, wellbeing and mental health are at risk.
