From the President

Thanks to all who attended for another friendly meeting this week, with good numbers given a public holiday. Nearly 40 members gathered for a lovely chat over lunch at the Feathers Hotel after the meeting. Thanks very much to Kaye Leaker and her committee for arranging this. At our table we puzzled over the provision of “cultured butter” with our bread roll, as none of us knew what cultured butter is. My wife always rises to a research challenge, so I have now learned that cultured butter has undergone fermentation, usually with the addition of yoghurt, so that it contains extra probiotics. So we had a healthy bread roll with lunch in good company to celebrate Probud Day. We have the opportunity for further activity together with a stroll around the Waite arboretum kindly organised by John Higgins for Monday 19th October. See the details below if this activity appeals to you.
